Hello again everyone!

We're really sorry, but Traveler will be going on HIATUS for three weeks starting this Sunday. To those who have stuck by us despite the wonky updates, please be patient with us a bit more.

We hope that by going on hiatus, we'd be able to fix or schedules and work flow enough that we can update reliably every week. Thank you very much for understanding how much we need this hiatus.

We hope to see you in three weeks!

Much love,
Eric R. and Caryl B.
